It is expected that 100 percent of your business plan be completed and submitted on time as it would be in a real world environment. Students should understand that bankers, accountants, advertising executives and other professional advisors are busy people and must schedule their work by appointment. This self-discipline is absolutely essential to success in business as it will be in this course.

As a general rule of thumb most entrepreneurs anticipate potential problems and complete their material well ahead of schedule. In rare situations of legitimate medical or family emergency students (entrepreneurs) may need to rely on the support and cooperation of team members in order to meet the required deadlines. In a real world environment, partnerships dissolve when partners fail to contribute fairly to a venture. Similarly, if you find that your team members are not participating fully, you may choose to dissolve your partnership. In that situation individual parties would be required to submit separate documents.

Classroom preparation – Students should read and reflect on textbook material before coming to class.

Attendance – Students are required to attend class on a regular basis because that is consistent with the “real world”. Missed classes deprive others of your insight and perspective and you are deprived of their insight and perspective. Modern business practices and learning principles support the concept of participation. Attendance is recorded. To be excused students must provide an acceptable written and dated explanation of their absence – either before the absence (if it can be reasonably anticipated) or within a day or two upon returning. A verbal explanation is always appreciated but it is considered insufficient to change my records of your attendance. Chronic absenteeism may require further documentation.

Behaviour – Students should respect the diversity and dignity of others in the class.

The following semester grades will be assigned to students in postsecondary courses:

VI. SPECIAL NOTES:

Special Needs:

If you are a student with special needs (e.g. physical limitations, visual impairments, hearing impairments, or learning disabilities), you are encouraged to discuss required accommodations with your professor and/or the Special Needs office. Visit Room E1101 or call Extension 2703 so that support services can be arranged for you.

Retention of Course Outlines:

It is the responsibility of the student to retain all course outlines for possible future use in acquiring advanced standing at other postsecondary institutions.

Communication:

The College considers WebCT/LMS as the primary channel of communication for each course. Regularly checking this software platform is critical as it will keep you directly connected with faculty and current course information. Success in this course may be directly related to your willingness to take advantage of the Learning Management System communication tool.

Plagiarism:

Students should refer to the definition of “academic dishonesty” in Student Code of Conduct. Students who engage in “academic dishonesty” will receive an automatic failure for that submission and/or such other penalty, up to and including expulsion from the course/program, as may be decided by the professor/dean. In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced, and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

Course Outline Amendments:

The Professor reserves the right to change the information contained in this course outline depending on the needs of the learner and the availability of resources.
