I. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is a continuation of HSC 104. It will provide an intensive study of human development from middle childhood to the end of adolescence. Included will be an examination of psychological, physical, cognitive and social growth and development. In some instances, abnormal development and behaviour will be contrasted with normal patterns.

As time allows, issues of development during the adult phase of the life cycle will be reviewed. There will be ongoing study of psychological theory, method and vocabulary.

A holistic view of human development and functioning will be encouraged. Emphasis will be on students integrating and applying their knowledge of developmental patterns and occurrences.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES and ELEMENTS OF THE PERFORMANCE:

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Promote overall well-being and facilitate positive change for children (from CYW CSAC Learning Outcome #2) through recognition and utilization of developmental influences, patterns and occurrences

Potential Elements of the performance:

- a. demonstrate an understanding of normative and non-normative developmental factors
- b. describe and contrast the psychological, cognitive, physical and social developmental achievements of middle childhood and adolescence
- c. apply selected theories of development to explain and analyze the developmental needs of children and youth at various stages
- 2. Communicate effectively in verbal, nonverbal and written forms which enhance the quality of service (CYW CSAC Learning Outcome #8)

Potential Elements of the performance:

- a. identify and describe, in both written and verbal form, normative and individual factors as they impact on specific case
- b. define and apply selected vocabulary from the child development literature
- c. use American Psychological Association reporting format as required

Code #

3. Form professional relationships which enhance the quality of service for children, youth and their families (CYW CSAC Learning Outcome #5)

Potential Elements of the performance:

- a. apply previously learned skills in listening and responding to class discussions in order to promote enquiry and validation of different views, by interacting with others in the class discussions and study groups
- b. complete a "case study/analysis" with a work team
- 4. Perform ongoing self-assessment and self-care to promote awareness and enhance professional competence (CYW CSAC Learning Outcome #6)

Potential Elements of the performance:

- a. demonstrate the ability to manage time and other resources by submitting a work plan for a term project assignment
- b. apply time management skills to ensure punctuality and regular attendance in class, in order to facilitate the group learning and discussion process

II. TOPICS:

- 1. Methods of Studying Development
- 2. Theories of Development
- 3. The Nature of Development
- 4. Review of Infant and Early Childhood Development
- 5. Physical Development in later Childhood and Adolescence
- 6. Cognitive Development in later Childhood and Adolescence
- 7. Social/Emotional Development in later Childhood and Adolescence

1V. REQUIRED RESOURCES/TEXTS/MATERIALS:

- 1. Santrock, J. Children, 7th or 8th ed. Brown and Benchmark
- 2. Access to a course related film and viewing equipment for assignment purposes (details to be provided in class)

V. EVALUATION PROCESS/GRADING SYSTEM:

Tests: There will be 8 quizzes for 5% each. Quiz questions may require students to draw on major areas of study from HSC 104. The dates and further details will be provided in class. There will be no opportunity to write missed tests except in the case of a documented medical or personal emergency.

Case Study: This project will be completed by students in work teams of 4 or 5, for a total of 30%. Each team will submit a single written report, as described below. All members of the team will receive the same grade, unless circumstances demand otherwise, in the professor's view.

Each team will be assigned a case drawn from a popular film, relating to middle childhood or adolescent development, and approved by the course professor. Teams must lead a classroom discussion of the case and prepare a "reaction/analysis" paper, for submission to the professor. The reaction paper must provide an in depth analysis of the issues raised in the case, with current research information provided to support the analysis. The paper should identify key issues, investigate them further, and report on them in a clear, complete and scholarly fashion. In the event that a case makes reference to cultural issues relevant in the United States (e.g. Hispanic issues) students are expected to make "cultural translations" to Canadian parallels. As part of the overall analysis, the personal views of the students will be accepted provided they are cross-referenced to research findings. Overall, students are expected to demonstrate a solid grasp of middle childhood and adolescent developmental issues as identified in their assigned case.

The reference list must include specific information from "Children" (Santrock) and a minimum of four other scientific/professional references. All material listed in the "reference list" must appear in the body of the paper, as indicated by APA reporting format.

The four additional sources must date within the last ten years and be professionally credible. References may be obtained from books and texts, research journals, professional or news magazines (e.g. Psychology Today, Discover, MacLeans). It is the student's responsibility to ensure the accuracy of references - if in doubt, contact the professor. Internet sources must be valid.

The final report must be typed, double-spaced, with a 3 cm. (1 ¼") margin on both the left and right side of each page. There must be a separate cover page, noting the title of the paper, the date of submission, your name and the name of the course and professor. There must also be a separate page noting the table of contents. References must be noted appropriately. Grammar and spelling should be carefully monitored. See outline attached.

Length: No more than 12 pages, typed and double-spaced

Due Date: TBA in first class

Personal Reflection Paper: Each student will submit a reflection paper regarding their own developmental experience of adolescence, according to criteria attached. This assignment will constitute 10% of the final grade.

Class Involvement: Participation, preparation, all readings completed, satisfactory completion of weekly assignments, mature involvement in class. Class involvement will constitute 20% of the final grade.

V1. METHOD OF ASSESSMENT

8 quizzes at 5%	40%
Oral Case Report	10%
Case Paper	20%
Personal Reflection Paper	10%
Attendance and Participation	20%
	100%

College Grading System

The following semester grades will be assigned to students in post-secondary courses:

Grade	Definition	Grade Point Equivalent
A+ A B C	90 – 100% 80 – 89% 70 - 79% 60 - 69%	4.00 3.00 2.00
D F (Fail)	50 – 59% 49% and below	1.00 0.00
CR (Credit)	Credit for diploma requirements has been awarded.
S	Satisfactory achievement in field /clinical placement or non-graded subject area.
U	Unsatisfactory achievement in field/clinical placement or non-graded subject area.
X	A temporary grade limited to situations with extenuating circumstances giving a student additional time to complete the requirements for a course.
NR W	Grade not reported to Registrar's office. Student has withdrawn from the course without academic penalty.

Note: For such reasons as program certification or program articulation, certain courses require minimums of greater than 50% and/or have mandatory components to achieve a passing grade.

It is also important to note, that the minimum overall GPA required in order to graduate from a Sault College program remains 2.0.

Note: Students may be assigned an "F" grade at Midterm for unsatisfactory performance.

V11. SPECIAL NOTES:

Special Needs:

If you are a student with special needs (e.g. physical limitations, visual impairments, hearing impairments, or learning disabilities), you are encouraged to discuss required accommodations with your instructor and/or the Special Needs office. Visit the Special Needs office in Room E1101 or call at extension 703 so that support services can be arranged for you.

Retention of course outlines:

It is the responsibility of the student to retain all course outlines for possible future use in acquiring advanced standing at other postsecondary institutions.

Plagiarism:

Students should refer to the definition of "academic dishonesty" in Student Rights and Responsibilities. Students who engage in "academic dishonesty" will receive an automatic failure for that submission and/or such other penalty, up to and including expulsion from the course/program, as may be decided by the professor/dean. In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced, and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

Course outline amendments:

The Professor reserves the right to change the information contained in this course outline depending on the needs of the learner and the availability of resources.

Substitute course information is available in the Registrar's office.

VIII. PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT:

Students who wish to apply for advanced credit in the course should consult the professor. Credit for prior learning will be given upon successful completion of a challenge exam or portfolio.

1X. DIRECT CREDIT TRANSFERS:

Students who wish to apply for direct credit transfer (advanced standing) should obtain a direct credit transfer form from the Dean's secretary. Students will be required to provide a transcript and course outline related to the course in question.

Instructions for Case Study Assignment

- 1. Class Discussion Component (worth 10%)
  - a) Each group will do an oral presentation of their assigned case using the following headings as a guideline:
    - Thesis Statement
    - Introduction to the Case
    - Underlying Issues for Discussion
    - Application
    - Concluding Statement
  - b) Each group will provide the class with a 1 page hand-out of the information presented (a sample will be provided)
  - c) Following the oral presentation of the case, the group will lead a class discussion of underlying issues related to the case, based upon 2 or 3 relevant discussion questions prepared in advance by the presenters
- 2. Instructions for Written Component of Case Study Assignment (Case Paper worth 20%)

Each group will submit a paper on their assigned case which is approximately 10 to 12 pages in length, and contains research from at least five credible sources, including our text. The paper will use the same headings as the one page hand-out provided for the class, but will expand on various areas in significant detail, as follows:

a. Thesis Statement: This is a statement or premise relating to the underlying issues identified in the case (see sample provided) which will be discussed, considered and/or proven throughout the paper, using research from various sources. This section of the paper should be contained in a brief introductory paragraph. (one paragraph)

Thesis statement is general in nature, relating to many adolescents

b. Introduction to the Case: This is a brief overview of the case, which provides basic background and sequence of events. (1 or 2 paragraphs only)

Introduction is specific in nature, relating to the circumstance of the particular case study

c. Underlying Issues: This section identifies four to six underlying issues which are relevant to the case. Each issue should be researched and discussed in some detail (1 to 2 pages each) using appropriate references.

Discussion of Issues is general in nature.

For example, if self-esteem is one of the underlying issues identified in the case, the group would investigate and report on current research related to self esteem in middle childhood or adolescence..

This section will form the body of the paper (i,e. 4 to 6 issues at 1 to 2 pages each = approximately 8 pages)

d. Application: This section describes how the underlying issues apply to the case (1 or 2 paragraphs only)

Application section is specific in nature, relating to the circumstances of the particular case study.

- e. Concluding Statements: This section integrates both general and specific aspects of the paper in a brief summary paragraph. (see sample hand-out attached elsewhere in package)
- f. List of References: minimum 5 references, including text

3.	Recommended Work Plan
Gre	oup Members:
a)	Individual Preparation: Each group member to view the assigned film with particular attention to the case character who will be the focus of the assignment. While doing so, group members should jot down ideas for a possible thesis statement and underlying issues to be explored. Completed:
b)	First Group Meeting Date:
	<ul> <li>Members share ideas and reach agreement regarding a thesis statement and underlying issues for research and discussion. Completed:</li> </ul>
	ii) Group members divide tasks (i.e who will take responsibility for preparing each aspect of assignment and by what date?)
	decide who will research which of the underlying issues, and record references for same?
	decide who will prepare 1 page hand-out for class decide who will develop discussion questions for class presentation decide what visual aids will be required and who will prepare same decide how information can be pooled into one paper (i.e. using compatible computer programs and disks?); decide who will prepare final paper (typing, editing and combining the various sections into one cohesive paper with clear sub-headings, cover page, list of references etc.)
c).	Second Group Meeting Date:
	group shares research findings to be incorporated into paper and presentation.  Completed:
	group plans oral presentation and classroom discussion decide who will present what? In what manner? Finalize discussion questions.  Completed:
	develop plan to finalize written and oral components of assignment.  Completed:
d).	Final Group Meeting Date:
	Ensure that every aspect of written and oral components are ready to go, and that all members are aware of their responsibilities. Completed:
	Finalize team evaluation report. Make arrangements to have report typed, signed by all members and attached to the final report by the due date. Completed:

Shared leadership/co-operation amongst discussion leaders	0	1	1.5	2
Introducing the case and identifying key issues	0	1.5	2	3
Keeping discussion well organized and focused Using appropriate language throughout Appearing enthusiastic and knowledgeable about topic	0 0 0	1 1 1	1.5 1.5 1.5	2 2 2
Present an overview of how the group sees the issue, research findings and how it ties into the developmental context etc.	0	2	3	4
Have a one page hand-out for classmates, highlighting key points	0	2	3	4
Have several open questions prepared to stimulate discussion (i.e. questions that do not have a simple yes/no answer) Be prepared to troubleshoot common group discussion problems - if one group member is dominating discussion, summarize and redirect - if several people try to speak at once, intervene and request one at a time - if people are having side conversations during discussion, let them know the behaviour is distracting and request their attention - recognize and prevent side-tracking – keep discussion on main issues - discourage excessive negativity (as it undermines constructive discussion) but do try to identify value of all perspectives Attempt to draw out and support "shy" or quiet members Manage the time carefully, so the discussion concludes in the appropriate time frame	0	2	1.5	2
Use audiovisual supports where appropriate to highlight points, brainstorm and/or record ideas throughout the discussion (*these can then be used to summarize at the end)	0	1	1.5	2
Encourage a positive climate for all ideas – No dumb ideas, No wrong questions!	0	-	.5	1

Format for Personal Reflection Papers (20 marks divided by 2 = 10% of final grade)

Each student will reflect upon his/her own developmental course through adolescence using the following headings as a guideline.

Physical Development

On-set of puberty and physical changes through adolescence (2 marks)

Personal Appearance and Self Image (2 marks)

Nutrition and Fitness (2 marks)

Cognitive Development

Academic development (2 marks)

Employment or other responsibilities (2 marks)

Achievements (high school diploma, driver's license etc.) (2 marks)

Socioemtional Development

Family Relationships through adolescence (2 marks)

Peer Relationships (2 marks)

Dating and Sexuality (2 marks)

Challenges

Issues or Events That Impacted Adolescence, and How They Were Handled (2 marks)

* All aspects of the paper are confidential, and will only be made known to the Professor. Students are therefore encouraged to be as honest as possible in discussing any significant events or issues that impacted their adolescence. However, students are only expected to share as much information as is comfortable for them.
