V. EVALUATION PROCESS/GRADING SYSTEM:

1. Tests: There will be four “tests”, one after chapter three, one after chapter 6, one after chapter 9 and one after chapter 11. “Tests” involve some of the elements of quizzes, plus questions which require application of the course material, e.g. in short essay format or case analysis format.
2. Completion and submission of exercises as assigned. Each student will complete six.
3. Class Involvement: This course depends upon students being punctual, present and involved. Learning for everyone is enhanced when the students contribute, question, challenge, share, risk and support. At the end of the term each student will be asked to comment on the quality of their involvement, including but not limited to: attendance, punctuality, constructive contribution, demonstration of respect, demonstration of skills learned, preparedness for class.

People who are present in class can only make contributions. Therefore, the grading for this section will be scaled to the attendance statistic for each student. If the overall attendance falls below 80% of the class time, the grade for this section will be “0”. Students who find it difficult to attend classes are invited to discuss this with the professor. Such discussion does not change the requirements of this section.

4. Students are required to notify faculty the day of a test in cases of severe illness and they are unable to attend. Faculty’s number is 759-2554, ext. 2564. Students may need to provide a doctor’s note.

SPECIAL NOTES:

1. The nature of this experience:

This course is set up to be an educational experience. The premise of the course is that a person can only integrate and apply Human Relations concepts and skills when they have applied them personally. Anything less may be viewed as not genuine. To this end, a degree of personal disclosure will be encouraged and expected. Students will learn how to create an “atmosphere of safety and encouragement” which invites personal disclosure and improves Human Relations.

This course is not intended to be a therapy session. The professor will be vigilant in this regard. Excessive or dominating personal disclosure will be redirected, respectfully, in the direction of the course objectives. Students are reminded of the services of the College, including counseling, to assist with personal matters. The professor can explain and assist further.

The professor, within legal and professional limits observes confidentiality. This applies to all course discussions and assignments. Students are required to observe confidentiality in the same fashion. If a student believes there to be a need to discuss another student’s actions or personal disclosures which occur in this course, this must be done first with the course professor. Any “breach” of confidentiality will be investigated as a possible violation of Child and Youth Worker professional ethics, and as a possible violation of Sault College’s Student Code of Conduct.

Students are expected to be familiar with the Child and Youth Worker Code of Ethics, and/or with the Code of Ethics relevant to their profession if it is not CYW. As well, students are expected to be familiar with Sault College’s Student Code of Conduct.

Electronic communication devices, including cell phones, pagers, Blackberry’s and others, can be used outside of class time. Should they be used or referred to during class time, the student doing so will be asked to leave the class in order to conduct their personal business, and will be permitted back into class only after meeting with the course professor at a time of the professor’s choosing, and possibly with the Dean.

Laptop computers can be used during class time if their use is limited strictly to class material, such as note taking. Any other use will result in immediate suspension of the privilege of using a laptop.

VI. SPECIAL NOTES:

Special Needs:

If you are a student with special needs (e.g. physical limitations, visual impairments, hearing impairments, or learning disabilities), visit the Special Needs Office – Room E1101 or call Extension 2703 as soon as possible so that support services can be arranged for you. Subsequently you are encouraged to discuss with your professor accommodations required to enable you to meet the course competencies.

Communication:

The college considers WebCT/LMS as the primary channel of communication for each course. Regularly checking this software platform is critical as it will keep you directly connected with faculty and current course information. Success in this course may be directly related to your willingness to take advantage of the Learning Management System communication systems. The professor will advise students of this, and of the availability for out-of-class assistance.

Retention of Course Outlines:

It is the responsibility of the student to retain all course outlines for possible future use in acquiring advanced standing at other post-secondary institutions.

Plagiarism:

Students should refer to the definition of “academic dishonesty” in the Student Code of Conduct. Students who engage in “academic dishonesty” will receive an automatic failure for that submission and/or such other penalty, up to and including expulsion from the course/program, as may be decided by the professor/dean. In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced, and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

Course Outline Amendments:

The professor reserves the right to change the information contained in this course outline depending on the needs of the learner and the availability of resources.

Substitute course information is available in the Registrar's office.

VII. PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT:

Students who wish to apply for advanced credit transfer (advanced standing) should obtain an Application for Advance Credit from the program coordinator (or the course coordinator regarding a general education transfer request) or academic assistant. Students will be required to provide an unofficial transcript and course outline related to the course in question.

Credit for prior learning will be given upon successful completion of a challenge exam or portfolio.
