Students are expected to communicate with their professor in a professional manner regarding any difficulties that may arise in this regard.

Tests may be ONLY be rescheduled with instructor's permission PRIOR to the date of the test. If you arrive late for a test, you may enter the classroom and begin to write the test, provided no one has left the classroom.

VI. EVALUATION PROCESS/GRADING SYSTEM:

Attendance and Participation	20%
Case Study: Assessment and Treatment Plan (in pairs)	30%
Family Profile	20%
Tests x 2 (each @ 15)	30%
Total	100%

DESCRIPTION OF ASSIGNMENTS

All assignments need to be completed in type written format and will not be accepted unless the student is given permission in advance. Late assignments will lose one mark per day. It is the student's responsibility to inform the professor of any issue that may interfere with their ability to complete assignments or write tests on time. Students will not be permitted to write tests and/or complete assignments if they have not communicated with the professor before the due date of the assignment or the day of the test.

1. Attendance and Participation

The student's attendance and participation mark for this course does not only include their attendance in class (determined by adding up the total number of classroom hours and the total number of hours student attended) but also reflects their ability to participate in this course at a professional level. This includes coming prepared for class, participating in discussions and group work with professionalism, respecting the ideas and opinions of classmates, a willingness to view situations and issues from another person's perspective and the ability to support classmates during presentations. It is an opportunity for students to hone the CYW professional skills that they have been developing since first year. (Refer to CYW Code of Ethics for further detail).

2. Case Study: Assessment and Treatment Plan:

In pairs, students will complete one assessment and treatment plan based on cases provided by the professor. Students will be expected to compile assessment information based on specific criteria and then develop a comprehensive assessment and treatment plan utilizing one of the theoretical approaches related to that specific level of family need as per the course text. Students will need to gather information from the course text, class discussions and the local community in order to support their assessment and develop an effective and in-depth treatment plan for this family.

The students will submit one case study per dyad. A detailed outline for this case study will be distributed in class. Students will choose the level of family need they would like to work on and choose one case accordingly.

3. Family Profile

The use of the genogram has value as a source of information pertinent to intervention in families. In that this has such relevance it is important that the beginning practitioner has an understanding of the construction and application of the genogram. It is in this regard that the participant is required to develop a personal family profile to enhance self-awareness and the role that this awareness plays in the delivery of quality support to clients and family groups. Genograms will be completed in class.

Detailed instruction related to creating a Family Profile will be provided at the beginning of the course, with specific information related to format and specifications for the assignment.
