I. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course examines social activism through the exploration of historical peace movements, practices and figures. Special emphasis will be given to 19th and 20th century figures/activists, local community groups and global peace movements. Students will have the opportunity to compare and contrast different ideologies and strategies, discuss the impact(s) of social activism on society, as well as, recognize the outside factors/influences that contribute to the ultimate success or failure of the peace movement.

Here are a few quotations that set the tone for the history of social activism and peace movements ...

Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world. Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has.

— Margaret Mead

A small body of determined spirits fired by an unquenchable faith in their mission can alter the course of history.

— Mahatma Gandhi

One little person, giving all of her time to peace, makes news. Many people, giving some of their time, can make history.

— Peace Pilgrim

Nonviolence is not sterile passivity, but a powerful moral force which makes for social transformation.

— Martin Luther King, Jr.

If we want to reap the harvest of peace and justice in the future, we will have to sow seeds of nonviolence, here and now, in the present.

— Mairead Corrigan Maguire

Peace can only last where human rights are respected, where the people are fed, and where individuals and nations are free.

— 14th Dalai Lama
