Other tutorials, websites and resource materials will be assigned throughout the course. Students will be required to review materials posted on D2L as directed in the weekly class schedule. There are also optional readings posted on D2L.

It is also recommended that students have the most recent version of Cites and Sources by Haig, J., Raikes, G. & Sutherland, V., usually used in CMM 110. This is a useful reference for written assignments.

The exams cannot be rewritten in order to obtain a higher grade. An exam may be rescheduled, at the discretion of the instructor, for substantiated reasons for absence on exam day. The instructor must be notified before the exam of your inability to write the exam and the reason. This may be done by phone or by email through D2L. You must make rescheduling arrangements as soon as is possible (within a few days) with me and the testing centre to write the exam.

The assigned questions will be completed on an ongoing basis and submitted to the professor on the due dates. Further information will be provided in the weekly class schedule.

Marks will be provided for in-class activities and/or 'pop' tests. Students who are absent for the classes where these occur for unsubstantiated reasons cannot make up the marks. Students who have notified the instructor and have substantiated reasons for their absence may have the opportunity to make up the marks, at the instructor's discretion.

Students are expected to learn and display professional social service worker behaviours. The classroom is an excellent place to begin to practice these. These behaviours are attached in the 'Professional Development and Participation Guidelines'. If everyone in the class develops and uses these skills, we will have a safe and respectful environment to explore and discuss many issues.

ALL assignments are to be handed in on the due date and are to be typewritten. Any late assignments will be penalized at 10% per day late. Assignments will not be accepted one week post due date unless previously negotiated with the instructor. You have the option of using a 'late coupon' for one assignment, one time only. This is available on the D2L course site.

If you are ill and cannot attend class when an assignment is due, you can email that assignment to me through D2L. This will be then be considered the submission date.

VI. SPECIAL NOTES:

Communication:

The College considers D2L as the primary channel of communication for each course. Regularly checking this software platform is critical as it will keep students directly connected with faculty and current course information. Success in this course may be directly related to students' willingness to take advantage of the Learning Management System communication tool.

I will usually respond to any email within 24 hours. If you have not received a response from me within that time, assume that I did not get it and resend. This applies unless I am ill or away from the college for business related purposes.

Attendance:

Sault College is committed to student success. There is a direct correlation between academic performance and class attendance; therefore, for the benefit of all, students are encouraged to attend all of their scheduled learning and evaluation sessions. This implies arriving on time and remaining for the duration of the scheduled session. It is the departmental policy that once the classroom door has been closed, the learning process has begun. Late arrivers are welcome to join the class after the first break.

Students must be attending the classes where case studies/documentaries are being discussed in order to receive the marks provided. In cases where there is substantiated reason for absence, and it is possible to access the documentary independently, the student may request the approval of the faculty to complete independently.

Significant learning takes place in the classroom through an interactive learning approach. NOTE: Students may be issued a failing grade or their mark will be reduced by one grade if less than 60% of classes are attended. The Professor reserves the right to ask for medical verification of absence. Class attendance and interactions will be reflected in the participation and attendance marks. Students are expected to come prepared to class to participate in discussion and review of course material. Grades assigned for professional development/participation will reflect not only attendance, but the student's knowledge of the content discussed, ability to share thoughts about the material, ability to respect viewpoints different from their own, professional behavior as outlined, and participation in class exercises.
