I. Course Description:

This course will provide students with a practical orientation to the Young Offenders Act. This will include a review of the origins and philosophical principles of the YOA, and how the legislation is operationalized, with an emphasis on the local Young Offender service delivery system. It will also examine primary, secondary, and tertiary levels of treatment of the young offender, including both general and specific programming techniques. The course can be viewed as a consolidation of related course content leading to refinement of skills useful in working with Young Offenders. The format will include a combination of lectures, guest speakers, audiovisual presentations and class discussion.

II. Learning Outcomes and Elements of Performance

Upon Successful completion of this course, the student will demonstrate the ability to:

Collect, analyze and organize relevant and necessary information from a variety of sources pertaining to Young Offenders in Canada.

Potential Elements of Performance

- Identify the nature of the information required
- investigate sources of information (including legislative documents, journals, texts and Internet)
- gather information from the most appropriate sources
- examine the information and select what is most relevant, important and useful to a CYW working with young offenders, those at risk of offending and/or their families.

Interact with others in groups or multi-disciplinary teams in ways that contribute to effective working relationships and meet the needs of clients within the context of their current environments, including educational, familial, community and/or custodial settings.

Utilize theoretical concepts in planning, implementing and evaluating activities and programs which respect culture and which promote overall well-being and facilitate positive change for young offenders, those at risk of offending and/or their families.

Potential Elements of the Performance

- assess, in collaboration with relevant others, the cultural, developmental and social needs of individuals and groups in the context of their current environments, including educational, familial, community and/or custodial settings
- plan and implement selected strategies to meet client needs within the context of their current environments.
- evaluate the results of implemented strategies and make necessary adaptations which facilitate positive change.
- utilize therapeutic activities to maximize learning and growth for young offenders, those at risk of offending and/or their families.

II. Learning Outcomes and Elements of Performance (cont.)

Upon Successful completion of this course, the student will demonstrate the ability to:

Interact with groups or multi-disciplinary teams in ways that contribute to effective working relationships and meet the needs of clients within the context of their current environments, including educational, familial, community and/or custodial settings.

Potential Elements of the Performance

- identify the tasks to be completed
- establish strategies to accomplish the tasks
- identify roles for members of the team/group
- clarify one's own roles and fulfill them in a timely fashion
- treat other members of the group equitably and fairly
- contribute one's ideas, opinions and information while demonstrating respect for the contributions of others
- employ techniques intended to bring about the resolution of any conflicts
- regularly assess the group's progress and interactions and make adjustments when necessary.

Communicate clearly, concisely and correctly in the written, verbal and visual form that fulfills the purpose and meets the needs of the audience.

Potential Elements of the Performance

- plan and organize communications according to the purpose and audiences
- choose the format appropriate to the purpose (logs, memos, reports, face-to-face meetings, etc.)
- incorporate the content that is meaningful and necessary
- produce material that conforms to the conventions of the chosen format
- use language and style suited to the audience and purpose
- ensure that the materials are free from mechanical errors

III. Topics

- 1) Review of legislation (YOA, CFSA)
- 2) Review of local Young Offenders Services System
- 3) Profiling the Young Offender: Myths and Facts
- 4) Teaching Prosocial Competencies (interpersonal skills, anger management, moral reasoning training, empathy training, etc.)
- 5) Practical Application of Case Management Techniques
- 6) Social Issues which impact directly on the Young Offender Services System
