I. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This practicum course takes place in community agencies. You will observe and practice the role of the Personal Support Worker/Personal Attendant. You will care for consumers with a chronic or terminal illness in their homes. You will apply the theory and perform the skills you learned in class. You will meet the needs of your consumers using the following principles: safety; proper body mechanics; medical asepsis; hygiene; nutrition and therapeutic communications.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES:

Upon successful completion of this course you will have the ability to:

1. Safely care for consumers by following the policies and procedures of the agency.
2. Provide accountable, respectful and professional care.
3. Care for consumers with common disorders and problems that affect various body systems.
4. Identify the members of the health care team at the agency and distinguish the consumer as a key member of the health care team.
5. Ethically and legally support consumers by respecting their rights, individuality and culture.
6. Effectively communicate and promote positive interpersonal relationships with the consumer, the consumer's family and agency staff.
7. Use problem solving steps to resolve conflicts for individuals and groups.
8. Accurately report and record observations made of consumers.
9. Teach consumers when a need arises and the desire to learn is indicated by consumers. (eg. value of exercise, not smoking, good nutrition)
10. Implement care as indicated on an established plan of care for consumers.
11. Cooperate with health care members and consumers to develop a daily time management plan.
12. Using the principles of body mechanics and medical asepsis, safely provide care and support to consumers.
13. Provide a clean and comfortable environment for consumers.
14. Select foods from Canada's Food Guide (CFG) for the consumer that is not on a therapeutic diet.
15. Select foods for consumers who are on specific therapeutic diets while respecting their preferences, allergies and restrictions.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES:

16. Promote independence for consumers while giving care.
17. Display responsibility for meeting your own learning needs.
18. Demonstrate accountability in evaluating your own actions according to scope of practice.
19. Respond to suspected abuse as legislation dictates.

VI. SPECIAL NOTES:Special Needs:

If you are a student with special needs (e.g. physical limitations, visual impairments, hearing impairments, or learning disabilities), you are encouraged to discuss required accommodations with your professor and/or the Special Needs office. Visit Room E1101 or call Extension 703 so that support services can be arranged for you.

Retention of Course Outlines:

It is the responsibility of the student to retain all course outlines for possible future use in acquiring advanced standing at other post-secondary institutions.

Plagiarism:

Students should refer to the definition of “academic dishonesty” in Student Rights and Responsibilities. Students who engage in “academic dishonesty” will receive an automatic failure for that submission and/or such other penalty, up to and including expulsion from the course/program, as may be decided by the professor/dean. In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced, and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

Course Outline Amendments:

The professor reserves the right to change the information contained in this course outline depending on the needs of the learner and the availability of resources.

Substitute course information is available in the Registrar's office.

VII. PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT:

Students who wish to apply for advanced credit in the course should consult the professor. Credit for prior learning will be given upon successful completion of a challenge exam or portfolio.

VIII. DIRECT CREDIT TRANSFERS:

Students who wish to apply for direct credit transfer (advanced standing) should obtain a direct credit transfer form from the Dean's secretary. Students will be required to provide a transcript and course outline related to the course in question.
