Sault College
of Applied Arts and Technology
sault ste. marie

Course Outline

ADVANCED READING AND WRITING

ENG 315-3

revised ___SEPTEMBER 1981___

SAULT COLLEGE
of Applied Arts and Technology

443 Northern Ave., P.O. Box 60
Telephone 949-2050
SAULT STE. MARIE, Ontario
P6A 5L3

Advanced Reading and Writing

Description

The course aims at developing advanced reading and writing skills within the context of Canadian Studies, Women's Studies, and Futuristics. It emphasizes those communication skills which help express a wider view of the world in which students live and find their livelihoods.

Course Number	Credits
ENG 315	3

Duration	Hours/Week
15 weeks	3

Prerequisites

ENG 120 or the equivalent

Summary of Objectives

Upon completion of this course, a student should be able to:

1. Produce a comprehensive discussion of an important theme related to one of the three major course topics.

2. Demonstrate enhanced reading experience related to one or two course themes.

3. Relate the implications of the course's themes to an aspect of the major subject area in which he/she will likely find employment.

Texts

This course in in preparation. A text for each version of the course will be announced.

Special Requirements

Access to Lecture Theatre, Winter Term, for one hour per week; classroom of 25 for balance. Required for Lecture Theatre presentations: 16 mm projector, slide projector, voiceover slide projector, overhead projector. Required for occasional use in classrooms: VTR, monitor, overhead projector, slide projector, etc.

Advanced Credit

Students who have completed a relevantly similar post-secondary course, including a Grade XIII English subject should consult the Co-ordinator, Language & Communication and Social Science (ext. 204).

Topics and Assignments

Students are asked to address themselves to one of a wide array of topics provided for each version of the course as reflected in suggested reading lists.

Students can expect to write two book-based essays and a major course essay which focuses of their chosen theme.