SUPPLIES

Students will be expected to use personal or college computer resources for many of their assignments.

Students may be required to purchase two overhead transparencies and a non-permanent, water soluble, black or blue overhead pen (available in the Campus Shop).

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to do the following:

1. use tone, diction and language appropriate to specific audiences
2. write technical definitions and/or describe mechanisms and/or prepare instructions
3. write various short reports following specific formats e.g. occurrence, field, inspection, progress, investigation, evaluation reports in prepared form, memo, letter formats
4. incorporate graphics into reports
5. present technical material orally
6. analyze or evaluate a process or a problem
7. locate, gather, summarize, apply and document information
8. demonstrate resume formats, and cover letter design by producing a resume and cover letter
9. respond to and recognize job search and employment interview skills

ASSIGNMENTS

Students will demonstrate skill development by completing several short, technical writing assignments or reports, in letter or memo format, utilizing skills and writing techniques listed in the course objectives.

In addition students will be required to:

1. Research and cite using a documentation format
2. a) Produce a resume and cover letter or b) Participate in employability skills activities
3. Prepare an oral presentation.
4. Write one of the following:
  - a) A formal report will be assigned if the major subject area requires one
  - or b) A short paper requiring secondary research and documentation and a formal report based on primary research
  - or c) If an individual formal report is not required by the major subject area, an additional report PLUS a report exam may be substituted at the professor's discretion

Students should submit two copies of their formal report. To ASSURE ACADEMIC HONESTY, the Language and Communication Department WILL keep a copy of every formal report generated and return the other

GRADING

In-class Quizzes and/or Writing Assignments	20%
Technical Assignments	30%
Employability Skills	10%
Oral Presentations	10%
Formal Report and/or Final Exam	30%
TOTAL	100%

Marking schemes and assignments will differ from professor to professor. This flexibility recognizes that professors need to vary their approach as they assist students with varying levels of competence to meet the objectives of the course and various programs.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

A variety of methods including classroom presentations, small group discussions and directed readings will be used to respond to the students' needs.

METHOD OF ASSESSMENT

The following letter grades will be assigned in accordance with the Language and Communication Department Guidelines:

A+	Consistently outstanding	(90% - 100%)
A	Outstanding achievement	(80% - 89%)
B	Consistently above average achievement	(70% - 79%)
C	Satisfactory or acceptable achievement in all areas subject to assessment	(60% - 69%)
R	Repeat--The student has not achieved the objectives of the course and the course must be repeated.	(Less than 60%)
CR	Credit exemption
X	A temporary grade, limited to situations with extenuating circumstances, giving a student additional time to complete course requirements

NOTE: Students may be assigned an "R" grade early in the course for unsatisfactory performance.

PLAGIARISM

Students should refer to the definition of "academic dishonesty" in the "Statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities."

Students who engage in "academic dishonesty" will receive an automatic failure for that submission and/or such other penalty, up to and including expulsion from the course, as may be decided by the professor.

In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

SPECIAL NOTES

All students should be aware of the Special Needs Office in the college. Students with identified special needs are encouraged to discuss required accommodations confidentially with the professor. It is the responsibility of students who require accommodations to contact the Special Needs Office. All students and their tutors are required to meet with the professor before tutoring begins and as needed throughout the semester to enhance the learning process and student success.

ADVANCED CREDIT

Students who have completed an equivalent post-secondary course should bring relevant documents to the Coordinator, Language and Communication Department. Those who have related employment-centred experience should see the Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) Coordinator.
