PHILOSOPHY/GOALS: (COURSE DESCRIPTION)

This course prepares students for employment in the human services professions where skills of clarity, accuracy and conciseness are necessary in both written and oral communications. Special emphasis is placed on adapting tone and language suited to the intended audience. Projects are designed to increase the students' skills in locating, gathering, and organizing information from professional journals and community agencies.

TEXTBOOK

Handle with Care - Communicating in the Helping Professions by Lucy Valentino, Nelson Canada Publishing.

Students will be responsible for using a variety of articles from human services periodicals and professional journals.

SUMMARY OF OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to do the following:

- 1. Adapt the format, tone, and diction of a communication to the needs of a specific audience in a given situation
- Locate, gather, and apply information during the preparation of written and oral reports
- 3. Demonstrate, in their written assignments, the ability to produce clear, accurate well-organized text in a variety of formats
- 4. Give well-organized, coherent, effective oral presentations, using visual aids where appropriate
- 5. Prepare an effective job-application package including the letter of application, resume, and an interview
- 6. Demonstrate in their writing comprehension of program-related material from professional journals
- 7. Understand and employ a variety of editing techniques

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

A variety of methods including classroom presentation, small group discussions and directed readings will be used to respond to students' needs. Evaluation will normally be done by the professor, but in some assignments, peer evaluation may be required.

Χ A temporary grade, limited to situations with extenuating circumstances, giving a student additional time to complete course requirements

Students may be assigned an "R" grade early in the course for Note: unsatisfactory performance.

The midterm and final grades are found in the guidelines.

PLAGIARISM

Students should refer to the definition of "academic dishonesty" in the "Statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities."

Students who engage in "academic dishonesty" will receive an automatic failure for that submission and/or such other penalty, up to and including expulsion from the course, as may be decided by the professor.

In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

SPECIAL NOTES

All students should be aware of the Special Needs Office in the college. Students with identified special needs are encouraged to discuss required accommodations confidentially with the professor. It is the responsibility of students who require accommodations to contact the Special Needs Office. All students and their tutors are required to meet with the professor before tutoring begins and as needed throughout the semester to enhance the learning process and student success.

ADVANCED CREDIT

Students who have completed an equivalent post-secondary course should bring relevant documents to the Coordinator, Language and Communication Department. Those who have related employment-centred experience should see the Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) Coordinator.
