

I. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Anyone working in the helping field must develop a personal style of connecting with members of the community in need. Effective interpersonal skills are a blend of theory, skills and self-awareness. Therefore, this course intent is to launch the process and techniques of effective social work skills. In addition, implications of self-awareness and cultural context of the helping relationship will be emphasized. An introduction to different traditional/spiritual methods of healing from the Native perspective will be integrated into the material.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES AND ELEMENTS OF THE PERFORMANCE:

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Integrate basic social work skills into daily practice.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- Demonstrate empathy, authenticity, and professionalism in one's approach to social services work
- Utilize the strengths perspective in work with individuals, families and communities
- Identify ethical and legal implications of practice
- Apply standards to ensure ethical and legal obligations are met
- Demonstrate culturally competent listening skills, verbal and non-verbal communications

2. Demonstrate proficient knowledge and facilitation of the dynamics, tasks, functions and skills applicable to the phases/processes of helping relationships.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- Identify the dynamics, tasks and function of each of the phases of helping relationships
- Integrate knowledge of phases and skills of helping relationships into facilitation of the arc of the helping process

3. Develop and adopt your own style of effective interpersonal communication in the helping field.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- Complete self awareness and self care inventories on an on-going basis to better inform personal and professional development.
- Connect personal style with professional knowledge base to create effective interpersonal communication
- Maintain a healthy helper personality through an ongoing process of self-awareness, self-care and personal development

4. Adopt a client-centered approach to meet the needs of the client and appropriately join in the dynamics of the helping relationship

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- Apply the skills of assessment, goal setting, contracting and evaluation in recognition of the individual-in-context.
 - Initiate, maintain and terminate a helping relationship that respects and guided by the self-determination of the client
5. Adapt techniques to establish the most appropriate approach to be used with various individuals, cultures and environments.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

Note: For such reasons as program certification or program articulation, certain courses require minimums of greater than 50% and/or have mandatory components to achieve a passing grade. It is also important to note, that the minimum overall GPA required in order to graduate from a Sault College program remains 2.0.

VI. SPECIAL NOTES:Submission of Assignments

Assignments are discussed when distributed. It is the responsibility of the student to seek clarification from the professor if absent when an assignment was distributed or if further clarification is requested related to the instructions or concepts.

Students must contact the professor prior to the due date to request consideration for an extension of an individual assignment. Valid and justifiable circumstances will be considered if granting an extension. Students will complete an Assignment Extension Request form and attach the completed form to the assignment.

Assignments are to be submitted electronically to the professor. The electronic copy provides verification of the date and time of submission. In addition a hardcopy of each assignment is to be submitted to the professor on the due date. The hardcopy will be marked by the professor. Assignments not submitted by hardcopy will not be graded until a hardcopy is provided to the professor.

Late assignments will be penalized 1% per day late and will be accepted for grading up to one week after the due date. Assignments submitted beyond one week past the due date will not be accepted.

Attendance

Sault College is committed to student success. There is a direct correlation between academic performance and class attendance; therefore, for the benefit of all its constituents, all students are encouraged to attend all of their scheduled learning and evaluation sessions. This implies arriving on time and remaining for the duration of the scheduled session.

Significant learning takes place in the classroom through an interactive learning approach; therefore, it is an expectation that students attend classes regularly to contribute to the academic performance and development of professional skills.

By midterm the professor will calculate the attendance and a letter will be distributed to the students who require a plan to address the attendance concern. Students who have missed more than 40% of scheduled classes will meet with the professor to discuss the program and course expectations and create a plan which addresses attendance concerns.

Students are encouraged to communicate with the professor when absences are anticipated and immediately returning from an absence. It is the student's responsibility to catch up on any notes and material missed when absent.

A pattern of absences or lateness may result in academic consequences which may include failure in course, ineligibility for fieldwork component of the program, implementation of a learning/success contract, suspension or withdrawal from fieldwork.
