I. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course will provide the participants with an in-depth examination of the evolving cultural transformation of Canada's original peoples including a pre-European and post-European perspective. With an emphasis on the Anishnaabe (Ojibwe) life ways and worldview, the students will be exposed to traditional philosophies and beliefs, their erosion and subsequent reemergence in the lives of First Nations' peoples. Recognition is given to the ensuing problems and issues created for Natives as a result of Non-Native contact and the actions of Native people to address them, giving rise to self-determination strategies.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES AND ELEMENTS OF THE PERFORMANCE:

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Identify the differences between ideal and real culture as they relate to First Nations' people.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- Define culture
- Identify the specific components that comprise culture in general
- compare and contrast "real" and "ideal" culture from the perspective of Native people
- identify cultural universals
- define worldview
- 2. Describe and discuss origins of pre-contact Native cultures and original ways and compare them with commonly accepted anthropological and other scientific viewpoints of Native origin.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- Explain the cultural differences between written versus oral historical traditions and their ensuing impact on Native people's history maintenance practices.
- Identify the more commonly held theories of Native origins
- Identify the various methods of history maintenance practiced by specific Native groups traditionally.
- Explain the significance of the oral traditions to Native people.

3. Compare parallel characteristics of indigenous cultures traditionally found within the boundaries of Canada.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- Identify the ten Native cultural groups located within the borders of Canada
- Identify the eleven linguistic groups located within the borders of Canada
- Describe the significance of the loss of Native languages to their cultures.
- 4. Identify chronologically significant events or transitions that influenced significant political, economic, social, cultural and geographic changes for specific Native groups.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- Describe the impact that European governments had on the First Nations people they came in contact with from the point of initial contact up until Canada's Confederation.
- Outline the impact of the fur trade in Northern Ontario on the Native groups within this region
- Describe the reasons for the historical migration of the Anishnaabek
- Explain what treaties were and their impact on Native peoples and Native lands from the European/Canadian governments' perspectives and the Native people's perspective.
- Discuss the impact of religious conversion and the residential schools on Native children, their families and their communities.
- Briefly outline the disintegration of traditional Native political structures and their evolution into their current status.
- Summarize the various socio-economic, educational, spiritual, political, etc issues that have plagued Native people since European contact from both a historical and current perspective.
- 5. Identify initiatives and strategies devised and implemented by Native First Nations to address their social, political, economic and spiritual needs.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- Define ethnocentrism
- Discuss various social, political, economic and spiritual initiatives currently being undertaken by First Nations to combat issues within these areas.
- Explain the significance of a holistic approach to Native healing and self-determination within many Native First Nations
- Explain the significance of the concept of "seven generations into the future".

- Describe the impact of positive Native role models.

III. TOPICS:

- 1. Introduction to the Culture
- 2. Tracing the Origins of Pre-Contact Native Cultures
- 3. Indigenous Cultures of Canada
- 4. Impact of Contact with Newcomers
- 5. Issues/Changes Faced by First Nations People Historically and Currently
- 6. Resurgence of Cultural Identity, Healing and Self-Determination

IV. REQUIRED RESOURCES/TEXTS/MATERIALS:

Handouts will be provided by the instructor in class. Students will be required to access materials on the Internet and via other current materials for examination of current Native issues and initiatives.

VI. EVALUATION PROCESS/GRADING SYSTEM:

Assignment/Exam	Weight(%)	Due Date
Mid-Term Exam	25%	Wk of Feb. 14
Community Assignment	20%	Wk of Mar. 6
Issue Presentation -written 15%	30%	Wks of Apr. 17-24
- oral 15%
Final Exam	25%	Wk of Apr. 24
TOTAL	100 %	•

The MID-TERM and FINAL EXAMS will consist primarily of short answer questions with a smaller number of true or false, fill-in-the-blank and/or matching questions included. The Mid-term exam will cover material from Unit 1 to 4 and the Final exam will include materials from Unit 4 to 6. A comprehensive review will be provided prior to the exam. Try not to miss these reviews!

The COMMUNITY ASSIGNMENT is intended to enable the students to relate course material to the existing realities on-reserve. The students will be required to interview and/or research information regarding the social, environmental, economic, political, cultural, educational, etc aspects of a specific First Nation community. The interview or research should include how the above described aspects have changed within the lifetime of a specific First Nation resident (20 to 30 + years). An assignment outline will be provided by the instructor to provide specific assignment details.

The ISSUES PRESENTATION will provide the students with the opportunity to research, develop, present and submit an informative response to a specific and current issue facing First Nations people. The students will thoroughly examine the ramifications of this issue from the perspective of all of the groups/people affected by the issue. Upon delivery of the presentation, the students will be required to submit a written version of the presentation. Suggested topics and further details will be provided by instructor.

The following semester grades will be assigned to students in postsecondary courses:

Grade	Definition	Grade Point Equivalent
A+	90 - 100%	4.00

CR (Credit)	Credit for diploma requirements has been awarded.
S	Satisfactory achievement in field
	placement or non-graded subject areas.
U	Unsatisfactory achievement in field
	placement or non-graded subject areas.
X	A temporary grade. This is used in limited situations with extenuating circumstances giving a student additional time to complete the requirements for a course (see Policies & Procedures
ND	Manual – Deferred Grades and Make-up).
NR	Grade not reported to Registrar's office.
	This is used to facilitate transcript preparation when, for extenuating circumstances, it has been impossible for the faculty member to report grades.

VII. SPECIAL NOTES:

Special Needs:

If you are a student with special needs (e.g. physical limitations, visual impairments, hearing impairments, or learning disabilities), you are encouraged to discuss required accommodations with your instructor and/or the Special Needs office. Visit Room E1204 or call Extension 493, 717, or 491 so that support services can be arranged for you.

Retention of course outlines:

It is the responsibility of the student to retain all course outlines for possible future use in acquiring advanced standing at other postsecondary institutions.

Plagiarism:

Students should refer to the definition of "academic dishonesty" in Student Rights and Responsibilities. Students who engage in "academic dishonesty" will receive an automatic failure for that submission and/or such other penalty, up to and including expulsion from the course, as may be decided by the professor. In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced, and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

The Professor reserves the right to change the information contained in this course outline depending on the needs of the learner and the availability of resources.

Substitute course information is available in the Registrar's office.

Assignments must be submitted in typewritten format. A late assignment will be accepted up to five days late (with instructor's approval) and will be penalized 1 mark/day late. If you are experiencing personal difficulties that may interfere with the submission of an assignment, contact the instructor as soon as possible prior to the due date of the assignment.

VIII. PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT:

Students who wish to apply for advanced credit in the course should consult the instructor. Credit for prior learning will be given upon successful completion of the following:

IX. DIRECT CREDIT TRANSFERS:

Students who wish to apply for direct credit transfer (advanced standing) should obtain a direct credit transfer form from the Dean's secretary. Students will be required to provide a transcript and course outline related to the course in question.
