I. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course provides students with practice and resources to enhance their interpretation and communication skills. A variety of resource communication techniques will be applied, including; abstracts, oral and poster presentation. Students will use various audiovisual devices (video, "PowerPoint", slides, etc.). Students will develop their own interpretive style, communication and presentation skills. Students will accumulate an "interpretive toolbox" of resources, references, tools and techniques. Interpretation theory will be discussed. Students will plan and deliver an interpretive program to an outside or college audience. Most projects will be integrated with assignments from other courses. The "presentation" component of the assignment will be graded for this course, the "content" component will be graded for the other course.

Resource interpretation forums such as conferences, symposia, open houses, consultation and stakeholder committees, round tables, public meetings, guided hikes, etc. will be critically examined.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES AND ELEMENTS OF THE PERFORMANCE:

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Compose a "Personal Philosophy Statement" concerning Resource Interpretation.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- Define "resource" and "interpretation"
- Compose a personal philosophy statement about resource interpretation
- Describe how everything in nature has intrinsic and interpretive value
- Complete an assignment on personal connections with nature.

This learning outcome will constitute approximately 10% of the course.

VI. SPECIAL NOTES:

Special Needs:

If you are a student with special needs (e.g. physical limitations, visual impairments, hearing impairments, or learning disabilities), you are encouraged to discuss required accommodations with your instructor and/or the Special Needs office. Visit Room E1101 or call Extension 2703, so that support services can be arranged for you.

Retention of course outlines:

It is the responsibility of the student to retain all course outlines for possible future use in acquiring advanced standing at other postsecondary institutions.

Communication:

The College considers WebCT/LMS as the primary channel of communication for each course. Regularly checking this software platform is critical as it will keep you directly connected with faculty and current course information. Success in this course may be directly related to your willingness to take advantage of the Learning Management System communication tool.

Plagiarism:

Students should refer to the definition of "academic dishonesty" in Student Code of Conduct. Students who engage in "academic dishonesty" will receive an automatic failure for that submission and/or such other penalty, up to and including expulsion from the course/program, as may be decided by the professor/dean. In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced, and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

Course outline amendments:

The Professor reserves the right to change the information contained in this course outline depending on the needs of the learner and the availability of resources.

1. All assignments must be submitted on time to pass the course, or be penalized 10% of the total mark per day including weekends for one week. Check each assignment for the due date and time. Anything handed in past this time is not accepted.

VII. PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT:

Students who wish to apply for advance credit transfer (advanced standing) should obtain an Application for Advance Credit from the program coordinator (or the course coordinator regarding a general education transfer request) or academic assistant. Students will be required to provide an unofficial transcript and course outline related to the course in question.

Credit for prior learning will also be given upon successful completion of a challenge exam or portfolio.
