COURSE DESCRIPTION

Historical approaches to the education and development of the child and their influences will be examined, as well as a comparative study of contemporary programs.

COURSE PHILOSOPHY

In order to develop a useful educational perspective and philosophy of preschool education for our time, the evaluation of ideas about early childhood education in western civilization is traced, and relevant writings are examined.

COURSE GOALS

This course is designed to give the student historical knowledge and understanding of the attitude toward children and their development and education, with a view of helping the student compare and evaluate some of the major contemporary programs and to develop a personal philosophy of preschool education.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The student will:

1. assess his/her own past learning experiences in relation to the influence of schools, books, teachers, peers, family, society, media, etc.

2. examine the reasons why we need a philosophy of education.

3. acquire a historical perspective of child development views and practices and their influence on contemporary programs.

4. demonstrate a knowledge of the various major contemporary philosophies of education and the programs reflecting these approaches.

5. develop a personal philosophy of preschool education.
SYLLABUS

Week 1-14
