Instructor: D. O'Connor

PREREQUISITE: Childhood & Adolescent Development Part I (HSC 104) or permission of instructor

I. PHILOSOPHY/GOALS

This course is a continuation of HSC 104. It will provide an intensive study of human development from early childhood to the end of adolescence. Included will be an examination of psychological, physical, cognitive and social growth and development. In some instances, abnormal development and behaviour will be contrasted with normal patterns.

As time allows, issues of development during the adult phase of the life cycle will be reviewed. There will be ongoing study of psychological theory, method and vocabulary.

A wholistic view of human development and functioning will be encouraged. Emphasis will be on the student integrating and applying their knowledge of developmental patterns and occurrences.

II. STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES

By the end of the course, students will be able to:

a) Concisely and correctly answer questions (verbal and written) and respond to discussions in order to demonstrate an understanding of the field of psychology as a scientific study of human development; of major theories and research contributions; and of the significance of this to the field of Child and Youth work.

b) Analyze, reframe and respond to problems in order to express a theoretical and practical understanding of the change in a person's behaviour which are the result of the interdependent and interactive effects of maturation and experience, particularly as they apply to development in childhood and adolescence.

c) Utilize basic psychological terminology in oral and written exchanges.

d) Apply the basics of psychological writing format in a term paper as outlined.

e) Collect, analyze and organize relevant and necessary information from sources by completing literature research for a term paper.

f) Apply previously-learned skills in listening and responding in order to promote enquiry and validation of different views by interacting with others in the class discussions.

h) Demonstrate the ability to manage time and other resources by submitting a work plan for a term project assignment.

IV. EVALUATION METHODS

A. Tests = 60%

Three tests each worth 20% will be given. Each test will cover 3 chapters and will consist of multiple choice and true/false questions. The tests will be based on the material covered in class and the textbook.

B. Assignments = 15%

Using the cooperative learning method, students will be responsible for two reading assignments and one observation. The format for this learning will be discussed in class.

C. Term Paper = 25%

The topic can be your choice but must relate to an aspect of child or adolescent development. (Eg.) You may want to research the effects of divorce on children in the middle childhood years; how most adolescents emerge from a period of "storm and stress" as normal, well-adjusted young adults or how to effectively communicate information to J.K. and K. age children given their attention and memory abilities. The topic must be approved by the course teacher.

A minimum of 6 references are required of which 3 must date within the last 6 years. References must be from child development research journals or professional magazines, eg. Psychology Today, Discover. A maximum of one reference is allowed from magazines such as Time, MacLeans or Parents.

The paper must be typed, double-spaced. The minimum length is 6 pages and maximum is 12. In addition there should be:

i) a cover page with the Title of the paper, name of course, your name, teacher's name and date of submission,
ii) Table of Contents
iii) Reference page using A.P.A. format

Marks will be deducted for incorrect referencing, spelling, and grammar to a maximum of 20% of the total mark. Marks will be deducted for papers submitted after the due date and a rate of 5% per day.
