I. COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course provides an introduction to the area of infant and toddler care. The young child's developmental changes during the infant and the toddler periods are significant. Infants and toddlers are seen as individuals with strengths and needs which are to be interpreted and responded to by the sensitive caregiver. The synchronicity of this relationship is emphasized. Consequently, the student will develop an appreciation of the importance of ensuring quality caregiving and of the need for a good learning environment in both the home and group care settings.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES AND ELEMENTS OF THE PERFORMANCE:

Upon successful completion of this course the student will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Plan And Implement An Appropriate IPP For An Infant Or Toddler; Analyze Its Relevance And Its Success, And Formulate New Objectives For The Child.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- analyze the components of an Individual Program Plan
- distinguish between Piaget's stages of sensori-motor development
- investigate the features of a developmental profile
- differentiate between basal and ceiling levels when observing for skill achievement
- describe critical developmental milestones and developmental ladders
- choose an infant or toddler subject and conduct home visits
- complete a developmental profile and describe the child's achievement of milestones
- outline a list of the child's Strengths and Needs
- make and score graphs which illustrate the child's current basal and ceiling levels
- formulate IPP objectives
- evaluate the IPP's success

This learning outcome will constitute 35% of the course's grade

2. Determine The Child's Cognitive, Physical And Emotional Needs During Early Childhood; Examine The Role Of A Responsive Caregiver/Teacher.

Potential Elements of the Performance:
ED 213-Infant/Toddler, '97; Page 3

- outline the essential components of quality care
- describe the relationship between one's beliefs, knowledge & values, to philosophy & goals for infant programming
- examine the qualities of, and roles of the competent caregiver
- describe how to interpret infant states and cues
- assess characteristics of temperament and relate these to attachment behaviours
- determine appropriate ways of promoting emotional well-being
- propose ways of fostering positive social interaction
- explain the process of infant action-reaction
- view relevant videos and complete the related "before viewing" and "after viewing" questionnaires in assigned groups
- rate one's involvement and participation in group discussions/projects

This learning outcome will constitute 30% of the course's grade.

3. Formulate And Implement Appropriate Curriculum Plans And Activities For The Individual Infant/toddler Within The Context Of The Group Care Setting.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- select developmentally appropriate materials for infants and toddlers
- determine ways of providing ideal sensory enrichment
- illustrate ways of providing support and of enhancing learning during routines
- assemble appropriate props for resource
- plan developmentally appropriate variations to resource kits

This learning outcome will constitute 10% of the course's grade.

Potential Elements of the Performance:

- outline the characteristics of a supportive/responsive environment
- propose methods of establishing good stimulus shelters
- outline the factors which provide an appropriate balance between over & under stimulation
- complete an ITERS rating scale

The child's progress will be summarized and conclusions made about the success of the plan. Also, the student will propose appropriate follow-up activities which could subsequently be used with the child.

   a. Complete visit #1 and observations/profile by Oct 1, 1998
b. Complete visit #2 and observations/developmental differences by Oct 29, 1998

c. IPP & Observations,(Include Parts I & II), due Nov 12, 1998

d. Part III Summary and Follow-up Activities, due Dec 10, 1998

2. VIDEO GROUPS AND ASSIGNMENTS - 30%

Students will be assigned to groups in order to view all of the videos in the series “Let Babies be Babies” (reserve viewing room in LRC) and complete the prescribed activities (e.g., complete readings beforehand; answer questions following group discussions; complete “before viewing and after viewing” activities). These viewing questionnaires will be submitted via e-mail and will be rated on a 3-point scale, as follows:

0 - not completed
1 - minimal effort
2 - exceptionally thorough

For the sequence of these activities and due dates, see further in the course outline. Students will also be responsible for the information contained in the manuals accompanying each video in the series “Let Babies be Babies”. These articles will also be available on the web, and should be read prior to attending the group discussions. Students will be required to evaluate their own participation and that of their group members.

3. TESTS - 20%

Achievement of course learning outcomes will be measured by mandatory testing as follows:

Test #1 (15%) October 15, 1998
Test #2 (15%) December 17, 1998

NOTE: Students must complete tests on the designated date. If the student cannot attend the class for the test, the student must telephone the teacher prior to the time of the test (759-2554, Extension 548) to inform the teacher and make alternate arrangements (see Testing Policy for Human Sciences & Teacher Ed). If this procedure is not followed then a grade of zero will be applied for the test.
4. ENVIRONMENTAL RATING - 5%

Students will investigate the elements of appropriate environments for infants and toddlers, through assigned readings. As well, after viewing the "Harms & Cryer" video in class, the student will practice using the rating scale. After each segment of the tape is observed, the student will rate the environment shown, according to the code supplied. (In-class assignment, guided by teacher).

PART A:
1. Choose an infant or toddler (between the ages of 3 to 18 months of age) and visit this child in his/her home environment at least twice, with as close as possible to four weeks between visits (one to two hours each visit).

2. In the first visit the “Child Study Data Sheet” will serve to help you and the parent(s) become comfortable with each other. Emphasize to the parent(s) that this is merely an assignment to assist you in gaining observation skills as well as more understanding of developmental milestones. Reassure them that your results will be strictly confidential. You are not an “expert” and if the parent(s) have any concerns about the development of their child, this should be discussed with their family physician or other professional!

3. Complete the following during each visit:
   - Summary of Routines, and Likes and Dislikes
   - Running Record (10-15 min running observation of child engaged in activities). Give details of child’s actions and what the child says.
   - Developmental Landmarks (either consult with the parents or pinpoint from your running observation. Remember to consult your checklist and developmental texts prior to your visit so that you are prepared and know what milestones to look for!)

4. Upon the completion of your second visit, compare the checklist results as well as your observational data and discuss the developmental differences between visits. Make a graph of each visit to obtain a visual comparison. Also make a “strengths/needs” list for each developmental area. From this information and the strategies described in your text, plan an IPP for your child. Activities must be planned for each of the five major developmental areas, including one for receptive as well as one for expressive language. Remember to focus on activities which will be easily completed by busy parents; some activities may be combined (eg. Social-emotional or gross-motor and language).

5. Complete the “Individual Program Plan Overview” sheet and submit Part A of the project to your course professor, by the due date. The “Activity Assignment Sheets” are to be given to the parents/relatives for them to carry out the activities with their child for the following 1 to 2 weeks.

PART B:
1. The student will retrieve the “Activity Assignment Sheets” and discuss with the parent(s) whether or not the assigned activities were successful in terms of helping the child to progress developmentally. The results of this discussion will be included in the project summary. Provide explanations as to why the activities were or were not successful.

2. Suggest a follow-up activity for each developmental area which you would assign next if you were responsible for continuing to visit this child and plan programming activities. Complete the second IPP Overview sheet which will describe these activities.

3. Give an overall conclusion AND provide a personal impression/evaluation of this project.
