PHILOSOPHY

This course will explore the process which occurs when people become a group. Students will be introduced to the theory underlying effective group dynamics and the skills required to apply this knowledge, therapeutically, with children and youth. An experiential approach to learning about group dynamics encompasses the core of this subject matter.

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OBJECTIVES

Upon successful completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. understand and apply concepts of group dynamics as it relates to identifying roles within the group as well as role adjustments.
2. identify and gain expertise in recognizing the ‘sense of group’ by observing and exploring the behaviours, feelings and attitudes within the group structure.
3. employ attending behaviours and demonstrate caring communication skills.
4. create, implement and process therapeutic group activities.
5. develop self-awareness as it relates to and affects the dynamics of the group process.
6. understand and apply the concepts of problem-solving and decision-making within a group and/or team structure.
7. identify the developmental stages of groups and plan activities according to each stage.
