DEVELOPMENTAL ENGLISH (ENG 099-3) COURSE OUTLINE

PHILOSOPHY/GOALS (COURSE DESCRIPTION)

The English 099 course aims at students achieving a standard of reading and writing skills appropriate for college students. However, the approach, teaching strategies, exercises, and assignments are structured to enable students who need intensive basic skills development rather than merely a review of fundamentals to achieve the course goals.

The successful student will receive credit equivalent to an English 120 credit. A student who has made substantial progress towards meeting 099 course goals but who requires more skill development will be assigned an "X" grade and required to complete the necessary development in an appropriate course.

METHOD OF ASSESSMENT (GRADING METHOD)

Students will be assessed on the basis of their essay assignments, summaries, comprehension and vocabulary tests, grammar and spelling, reading lab work and final tests.

Letter grades will be assigned in accordance with the Language and Communication Department guidelines.

The following grade symbols will be used in recording final grades:

- "A+" - consistently outstanding
- "A" - outstanding
- "B" - above average
- "C" - satisfactory
- "R" - repeat (the student has not achieved the objectives of the course and must repeat it).
- "X" - complete 099 objectives in an appropriate course (The student must do more skill development to achieve 099 objectives.)

GRADING

Written work assigned and graded will constitute 60% of your grade. A final exam will constitute 30% and such factors as improvement, classroom activities, and participation will account for the remaining 10%.

TEXTBOOKS AND SUPPLIES

1. English Skills with Readings by John Langan, McGraw-Hill Ryerson Limited

2. Webster's New World Compact Dictionary (School & Office), Prentice Hall Press

3. Students will be required to purchase two overhead transparencies and a black or blue non-permanent, water soluble transparency pen (available in the Campus Shop).

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to do the following:

1. write clear, concise, grammatically correct sentences which show variety in length and style.

2. write unified, well-organized paragraphs.

3. write brief, coherent essays using a number of expository techniques to serve a specific audience.

4. summarize a variety of material.

5. read and show vocabulary development at a level consistent with post-secondary work.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

Classroom presentations, small group writing activities, directed readings and supervised reading programs may be used by the teacher to respond to student needs.

Teachers may require that writing assignments be completed in class on a computer. Students who miss initial instruction in using the computer for writing may be required to find suitable alternate instruction. Irregular attendance at computer-assisted writing classes may result in the assignment of an "R" grade early in the course.

TOPICS

* NOTE: These topics sometimes overlap several areas of skill development and are not necessarily intended to be dealt with in isolated learning units or in the order below.

1. Introductory Testing and Review of Library Skills

2. Grammar and Spelling Fundamentals
   With assistance from the instructor, students (according to their individual needs) will be responsible for the ongoing practice of grammar fundamentals. These needs will be identified from students' writing.

3. Sentence Patterns

4. Vocabulary Skills
   a) Using the dictionary
   b) Understanding words in context
   c) Expanding personal vocabulary

5. Reading and Writing Expository Material
   a) Process Analysis
   b) Comparison and Contrast
   c) Cause and Effect
   d) Classification
   e) Description
   f) Narration

6. Summary Writing

7. Learning Assistance Centre (L.A.C.)

8. Journal Writing

9. Final Testing

MAJOR ASSIGNMENTS AND TESTING (Refer also to Departmental Guidelines.)

1. Writing
   Students will be evaluated on five written assignments (three expository assignments and two summaries). (40%)

2. Fundamentals
   Students will also be evaluated on grammar fundamentals, editing skills, reading comprehension, vocabulary, and dictionary skills. (20%)

Since this course places particular emphasis on building skills through revision students may be permitted to revise final submissions for a maximum "C" grade.
3. Learning Assistance Centre (L.A.C.)

Students will be required to work in the Learning Assistance Centre and will be expected to meet one of the following criteria:

a) achievement of 12.0 comprehension score on the Nelson-Denny Reading Test.

b) completion of three successive reading levels in the guided reading program with an average comprehension score of 80% (Level "J" minimum).

4. Final Testing

Course objectives will be tested at the end of term. The final tests will include expository writing and summary writing. (30%)

5. Participation

Students are expected to attend classes, participate in class activities, and complete in-class assignments and quizzes. (10%)

NOTE: Students who consistently submit unsatisfactory assignments and rely upon coached revision to attain a "C" grade may be regarded as not having satisfactorily completed the course.

TIME FRAME

Developmental English (Eng. 099-3) involves six periods per week for fifteen weeks.
To earn Aid Assistance under the Learning Assistance Center (L.A.C.), students will be required to work in the Learning Assistance Center and will be expected to meet one of the following criteria:

1. An achievement of 15.0 or a reading score on the Reading Test.
2. An achievement of three successive reading levels in the building.
3. An average of 80% or a score of 90%.
4. A final failing grade will not be accepted at the end of the term.

For participants, courses are expected to include writing, reading, and mathematics to prepare for college. The participating students are expected to complete at least three hours per week for a minimum of 16 weeks.
