SUMMARY OF OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to do the following:

1. Use language to make appropriate responses to specific situations and audiences.
2. Produce clear, concise, accurate, well-organized text in written assignments.
3. Demonstrate comprehension of material by producing accurate summaries.
4. Demonstrate teamwork in pair or group activities.
5. Gather and apply information from various media sources using an assigned documentation format.
6. Compile and present self-generated data.
7. Gather specific employment-related data from a variety of sources.
8. Prepare an effective job-application package which may include the letter of application, the resume, and other related communications.
9. Write a formal business report or case study which may be based on both library and non-library sources.
10. Give well-organized, coherent, effective oral presentations, using visual aids where appropriate.
INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

A variety of methods including classroom presentations, videotapings, small group discussions and directed readings, and directed activities may be used to respond to students' needs.

Evaluation will normally be done by the professor, but for some assignments peer evaluation may be required.

ASSIGNMENTS AND MARKING SCHEME

Students will write a minimum of five assignments requiring formats commonly used for business correspondence.

1. informal report writing
2. proposal writing
3. summary writing
4. persuasive writing
5. routine and good news writing
6. refusal and bad news writing
7. memo writing

Percentage of grade for above assignments 45%
Communication skills 10%
Job Application package 5%
Oral Presentation(s) 10%
Formal report/formal case analysis 30%

TOTAL 100%

Marking schemes will differ from professor to professor and from assignment to assignment. This flexibility recognizes that professors need to vary their approach as they assist students with varying levels of competence to meet the objectives of the course.
METHOD OF ASSESSMENT

The following letter grades will be assigned as final grades in courses in the Language and Communication Department:

A+  Consistently outstanding  (90% - 100%)
A   Outstanding achievement  (80% - 89%)
B   Consistently above average achievement  (70% - 79%)
C   Satisfactory or acceptable achievement in all areas subject to assessment  (60% - 69%)
R   Repeat--The student has not achieved the objectives of the course and the course must be repeated. (Less than 60%)
CR  Credit exemption
X   A temporary grade, limited to situations with extenuating circumstances, giving a student additional time to complete course requirements

PLAGIARISM

Students should refer to the definition of "academic dishonesty" in the "Statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities."

Students who engage in "academic dishonesty" will receive an automatic failure for that submission and/or such other penalty, up to and including expulsion from the course, as may be decided by the professor.

In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

SPECIAL NOTES

All students should be aware of the Special Needs Office in the college. Students with identified special needs are encouraged to discuss required accommodations confidentially with the professor. It is the responsibility of students who require accommodations to contact the Special Needs Office. All students and their tutors are required to meet with the professor before tutoring begins and as needed throughout the semester to enhance the learning process and student success.

ADVANCED CREDIT

Students who have completed an equivalent post-secondary course should bring relevant documents to the Coordinator, Language and Communication Department. Those who have related employment-centred experience should see the Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) Coordinator.
