Approved: Martha Irwin, Chair, Community Services and Interdisciplinary Studies

Course Code: Title	SSW125: INTRODUCTION TO SSW THEORY AND PRACTICE
Program Number: Name	1203: SOCIAL SERV WORKER
Department:	SOCIAL SERVICES WORKER
Semesters/Terms:	21F
Course Description:	This course introduces students to social work theories that influence the practice of social service work. Students will be introduced to the roles and scope of practice of a social service worker, the profession of social work, and the theories that inform social service worker practice. Attention is given to anti-oppressive and empowerment perspectives with an emphasis on structural, feminist, indigenous, ecological and strengths-based theories. This theoretical foundation enables students to make the links between structural analysis and social service work practice and identify various forms of oppression, discrimination, and power and privilege. Students can expect to develop anti-oppressive practice stance that is consistent with professional values, ethics and standards of practice. Additionally, students are introduced to social service work practice with individuals, families, groups and communities.
