DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY

PSY 202-3

Course Name

Course Number

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Human psychological development, throughout the life-span, will be studied with an emphasis on the characteristic development changes in a person's behaviour, that are a result of the interactive and interdependent effects of maturation and experience. Psychological methodology, research, concepts and theories will be examined in relation to developmental tasks and processes. Students will be challenged to improve their critical thinking abilities and develop a deeper understanding of how developmental psychology can be applied towards enhancing human psychological adaptation.

COURSE PHILOSOPHY/GOALS

This course is designed to develop students' understanding of the concepts, methodologies, theories and processes of normal human psychological development throughout the life-span. Changes in behaviour will be interpreted as resulting from the dynamic, interdependent and interactive effects of maturation and experience.

COURSE GOALS

To study and develop an understanding of:

1. the different philosophical assumptions and theoretical viewpoints regarding the nature of man and his psychological development.
2. the methodologies, research, concepts, theories and determinants of human psychological development.
3. the developmental tasks and processes that characterize each phase of human psychological development throughout the life-span.
4. the interactive and interdependent effects of maturation and experience on age related changes in human behavioural development.
5. critical thinking abilities related to developmental psychological concepts,- theories and research, as well as a deeper understanding of their application towards enhancing human psychological adaptation.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

To be able to critically discuss and demonstrate, through oral and written responses, an understanding of:

1. characteristic age related changes in human behaviour and psychological processes throughout the life-span.
2. the interactive and interdependent effects of maturation and experience on human psychological development.
3. the various philosophical assumptions and theoretical interpretations regarding the nature of human psychological development.
4. the methodologies, research, concepts, theories, and determinants of human psychological development.
5. the application developmental psychology towards an enhanced ability to understand and facilitate human psychological adaptation.
6. Essay Research and Preparation; Students will be required to write a course essay (1,500 words, properly referenced and typed) on a topic of their choice (within the scope of the course) in consultation with and subject to the approval of the instructor.

NOTE: Students should also refer to the course text's accompanying "Student Study Guide" for more specific learning objectives related to each chapter of the text.
