PREREQUISITE: Introduction to Psychology (PSY 102)

I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

Part I will provide an intensive study of the psychological, cognitive, physical and social development of the child from conception to early childhood. Psychological concepts, theories and research will be examined in relation to the child's development. The application of theory and research to the problems of childhood will be discussed.

Philosophically, this course emphasizes a wholistic view of the undeniable worth of children.

II. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of this course the student will demonstrate the ability to:

1. promote overall well-being and facilitate positive change for children (from CYW CSAC Learning Outcome #2)

Elements of the Performance:

- a. define and critique the concept of development and the methods for studying development
 - b. explain, compare, contrast and apply selected theories of child development
 - c. describe and contrast the psychological, cognitive, physical and social developmental achievements of: the prenatal period, infancy, early childhood, middle childhood
 - d. integrate wholistic applications of child development
 - e. analyze child development literature using such skills as: definition of terms, research validity.
2. communicate effectively in verbal, non-verbal and written forms which enhance the quality of service (CYW CSAC Learning Outcome #8)

Elements of Performance:

- a. define normative and individual development and explain the differences between the two terms
- b. define and apply selected vocabulary from the child development literature
- c. define and use the terms "assumption, inference and observation" and apply these terms in the analysis of child development literature
- d. complete observation reports and write inferential statements from the observations, and support these with reference to child development literature
- e. use American Psychological Association reporting format as required

Journal of Child and Youth Care
Journal of Clinical Child Psychology
Parents
Psychology Today

V. EVALUATION PROCESS/GRADING SYSTEMA. Quizzes

There will be three quizzes. Each quiz will consist of 20 multiple choice questions, of which you can answer no more than 15. Thus, each quiz is scored out of 15. The total of all quizzes will constitute 20% toward the final grade. A minimum one-week "in-class notice" will be provided for each quiz.

B. Tests

These will be a more comprehensive inventory of course material. Tests will consist of: multiple choice and/or true-false questions, vocabulary definitions, short essay questions.

Dates will be announced in the first class. There will be two tests, one around mid-term, and one at the end of the term.

C. Research Project Reports

There are two reports due. All reports are to be drawn from the "research project" section of each chapter of the "student study guide". Your selection must be cleared with the instructor--do this before you start! The following schedule applies:

Report #1 - From chapters #1 - #5 inclusive
Report #2 - From chapters #6 - #11 inclusive

Due dates will be announced in the first class.

All reports must be submitted by the due date. Late reports will be subject to a grading penalty, at the discretion of the course professor.

Reports must be typed, and in all cases must be clean, neat, and legible.

C. Research Project Reports (cont.)

Spelling and grammar count!

Reports submitted without the full name of the author (i.e. you, the student) will not be graded.

Additional instructions and requirements may be given in class.

D. Additional Notes

Unless otherwise indicated, assume that all books: the text and workbook and the glossary must be brought by each person to each class. Workbooks may be reviewed by the instructor without notice from time to time.

Attendance in this course is strongly recommended – all other assignments, as listed above, may be jeopardized when attendance falls – see the instructor if you think this will happen, for any reason.

Explanation: Regular attendance will help the student obtain explanation for the concepts, integrate the curricula and display their achievement of the course objectives. Attendance of at least 85% of classes (ie not more than 2 classes missed) could maximize the student's attainment of course objectives. It is also a tangible display of commitment.

It is extremely important to call the professor or leave a message if you will be away from class. Learn how to obtain class material from fellow students if you are absent, and how to enter a class if you are late. Do not call the professor at home unless it is a critical emergency.

Plagiarism: (n.) "To take someone's ideas or writings and present them as one's own." This is a very serious act of theft. Don't do it!

Plagiarism in this course results in a "0" grade for the assignment. A second occurrence results in suspension from this course pending a review.

See the instructor if you have doubts about the skills of summarizing and referencing. If you are uncertain, ask. Disaster strikes when one pretends to know what one obviously does not know. It is OK to "not know" – ask!

*Take responsibility for your own learning! It can be whatever you want it to be. If you keep up with the material, then this can be a very rewarding and enjoyable course for you!

Students are reminded to be familiar with the "Rights and Responsibilities" section of the student handbook.

Grading Summary

A.	Quizzes	20%
B.	Test (#1 X 25%, #2 X 25%)	50%
C.	Reports (2 X 15%)	30%
		100%

Note: To be successful in this course requires 60% overall, plus 60% in the two tests combined.

COLLEGE GRADING POLICY

- A+ = 90-100%
- A = 80- 89%
- B = 70- 79%
- C = 60- 69%
- R = Repeat i.e. <60%

VI. SPECIAL NOTES

Special Needs

If you are a student with special needs (eg. physical limitations, visual impairments, hearing impairments, learning disabilities), you are encouraged to discuss required accommodations with the instructor and/or contact the Special Needs Office, Room E1204, Ext. 493, 717, 491 so that support services can be arranged for you.

Your instructor reserves the right to modify the course as he/she deems necessary to meet the needs of students.

Retention of Course Outlines

It is the responsibility of the student to retain all course outlines for possible future use in acquiring advanced standing at other post-secondary institutions.

Substitute Course Information is available at the Registrar's Office

VII. PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT

Students who wish to apply for advanced credit in the course should consult the instructor.
