I. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course introduces those who are planning to become teachers to a variety of topics including reasons for teaching, life in schools and human development and learning. Knowledge of all the elements that are involved in learning is the primary focus of the course. A close look at the story of The Girl with the Brown Crayon will help you to understand learning as it occurs in context. Field experience will require you to visit schools/classrooms to observe learners, teachers and others in various education settings – elementary (primary and junior) and high schools

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES AND ELEMENTS OF THE PERFORMANCE:

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Relate the purpose of schools as transmitters and re-creators of culture
Potential Elements of the Performance:
 - distinguish between the different educational philosophies that have guided the systems of education in various different cultures;
 - evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of these different views
2. Describe the characteristics of an “effective” school
Potential Elements of the Performance:
 - explore the different definitions of the word “effective” as it relates to the needs of different communities
 - discuss, in class, the different perceptions that different generations may have of effective schools
 - describe the ethics values and dispositions of effective professional educators
3. Describe positive learning environments and how they might be accomplished
Potential Elements of the Performance:
 - draw on personal experiences and discuss, in class, the positive learning environments and see what they have in common
 - observe different classrooms and test theories against the ‘lab’ setting

4. Explain implications of learning styles and modalities for planning instruction
Potential Elements of the Performance:
 - complete the Learning Styles Inventory
 - discuss the different quadrants and how they impact on learning and teaching
 - complete test on auditory, visual and kinesthetic preferences in learning
 - discuss right and left brain preferences as they relate to learning

5. Describe different social issues and how they impact on students' learning and schooling
Potential Elements of the Performance:
 - list the current political and social issues that we are confronting
 - draw on current news media to discover the issues regarding education that are drawing most attention
 - relate the impact of technology in society to issues of classroom instruction and student learning
 - describe the reasons for emphasis on life-long learning
 - discuss how issues such as students with learning disabilities and other special needs are addressed in classrooms, today

6. Demonstrate the ability to be reflective about the individual learning process
Potential Elements of the Performance:
 - keep journals
 - discuss and share experiences and feelings with class members

7. Evaluate Bloom's Taxonomy as a tool in analyzing learning
Potential Elements of the Performance
 - differentiate between cognitive, affective and psychomotor domains
 - recognize different levels of learning (in each domain) through observing different learning situations

8. Read, speak , write and listen effectively
Potential Elements of the Performance
- demonstrate comprehension of texts and notes through tests and essays
 - demonstrate clear and grammatically correct speaking in classroom discussion and presentations
 - demonstrate the correct use of English in terms of vocabulary, grammar and usage in reports and essays

III. TOPICS:

1. Reasons for teaching
2. What to expect as a new teacher
3. Qualities of good schools
4. Learning Styles, Personality Styles and Brain Hemisphere preferences
5. Bloom's Taxonomy of Learning
6. The diversity of students and their needs

For this course to meet part of the entrance requirement to the Teacher Education program at Lake Superior State University, a minimum B grade must be achieved.

It is also important to note, that the minimum overall GPA required in order to graduate from a Sault College program remains 2.0.

VI. SPECIAL NOTES:

Course Outline Amendments:

The professor reserves the right to change the information contained in this course outline depending on the needs of the learner and the availability of resources.

Retention of Course Outlines:

It is the responsibility of the student to retain all course outlines for possible future use in acquiring advanced standing at other postsecondary institutions.

Prior Learning Assessment:

Students who wish to apply for advance credit transfer (advanced standing) should obtain an Application for Advance Credit from the program coordinator (or the course coordinator regarding a general education transfer request) or academic assistant. Students will be required to provide an unofficial transcript and course outline related to the course in question. Please refer to the Student Academic Calendar of Events for the deadline date by which application must be made for advance standing.

Credit for prior learning will also be given upon successful completion of a challenge exam or portfolio.

Substitute course information is available in the Registrar's office.

Disability Services:

If you are a student with a disability (e.g. physical limitations, visual impairments, hearing impairments, or learning disabilities), you are encouraged to discuss required accommodations with your professor and/or the Disability Services office. Visit Room E1101 or call Extension 2703 so that support services can be arranged for you.

Communication:

The College considers WebCT/LMS as the primary channel of communication for each course. Regularly checking this software platform is critical as it will keep you directly connected with faculty and current course information. Success in this course may be directly related to your willingness to take advantage of the Learning Management System communication tool.

Plagiarism:

Students should refer to the definition of “academic dishonesty” in Student Code of Conduct. A professor/instructor may assign a sanction as defined below, or make recommendations to the Academic Chair for disposition of the matter. The professor/instructor may (i) issue a verbal reprimand, (ii) make an assignment of a lower grade with explanation, (iii) require additional academic assignments and issue a lower grade upon completion to the maximum grade “C”, (iv) make an automatic assignment of a failing grade, (v) recommend to the Chair dismissal from the course with the assignment of a failing grade. In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced, and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

Student Portal:

The Sault College portal allows you to view all your student information in one place. mysaultcollege gives you personalized access to online resources seven days a week from your home or school computer. Single log-in access allows you to see your personal and financial information, timetable, grades, records of achievement, unofficial transcript, and outstanding obligations, in addition to announcements, news, academic calendar of events, class cancellations, your learning management system (LMS), and much more. Go to <https://my.saultcollege.ca>.

Electronic Devices in the Classroom:

Students who wish to use electronic devices in the classroom will seek permission of the faculty member before proceeding to record instruction. With the exception of issues related to accommodations of disability, the decision to approve or refuse the request is the responsibility of the faculty member. Recorded classroom instruction will be used only for personal use and will not be used for any other purpose. Recorded classroom instruction will be destroyed at the end of the course. To ensure this, the student is required to return all copies of recorded material to the faculty member by the last day of class in the semester. Where the use of an electronic device has been approved, the student agrees that materials recorded are for his/her use only, are not for distribution, and are the sole property of the College.

Attendance:

Sault College is committed to student success. There is a direct correlation between academic performance and class attendance; therefore, for the benefit of all its constituents, all students are encouraged to attend all of their scheduled learning and evaluation sessions. This implies arriving on time and remaining for the duration of the scheduled session. It is the departmental policy that once the classroom door has been closed, the learning process has begun. Late arrivers will not be granted admission to the room.
