I. COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Students will be provided with a variety of gerontological nursing practice settings where they can interact with the well and frail elderly. The student will apply the theories and concepts examined and explored in the Health and Healing II course. Basic nursing skills will be practised in the Health Science Resource Centre and applied to maintain and promote health with elderly individuals in the nursing practice setting.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES AND ELEMENTS OF THE PERFORMANCE:

In this course, many learning activities are designed to foster collaborative learning in small groups. In order for the learner to develop the ability to critically think, reflect and integrate new information, the learner must engage in active dialogue with colleagues and the teacher. It is therefore to the learner's benefit that the learner attend and participate in class.

Upon successful completion of this course the student will demonstrate the ability to:

1. safely practise psychomotor skills in simple situations requiring minimal problem solving.
2. identify and apply theory to the progression of the clients' condition toward health or toward illness.
3. develop a helping relationship with well and frail elderly clients to promote health and healing.
4. assess, plan, implement and evaluate nursing care to meet identified client needs/problems.
5. communicate clearly, concisely and correctly in the written, spoken, and visual form that fulfills the purpose and meets the needs of audiences.
6. apply mathematical techniques with the degree of accuracy required to solve problems and make decisions.
7. interact with others in groups or teams in ways that contribute to effective working relationships and the achievement of goals.
8. develop personal learning outcomes for practicum based on own learning needs, practice concepts and the standards of practice.
9. demonstrate achievement of , or progress with, personal learning outcomes through portfolio development.

III. TOPICS:

Week 1 - 16

The student will work with the well elderly in community settings (senior visits and Senior Citizens Drop In Centre visit) and with the frail elderly in a variety of nursing practice settings. A one-day Grief, Loss and Caring Seminar will also be included.

VI. SPECIAL NOTES:

Special Needs:

If you are a student with special needs (e.g. physical limitations, visual impairments, hearing impairments, or learning disabilities), you are encouraged to discuss required accommodations with your instructor and/or the Special Needs office. Visit Room E1204 or call Extension 493, 717, or 491 so that support services can be arranged for you.

Retention of course outlines:

It is the responsibility of the student to retain all course outlines for possible future use in acquiring advanced standing at other postsecondary institutions.

Plagiarism:

Students should refer to the definition of “academic dishonesty” in Student Rights and Responsibilities. Students who engage in “academic dishonesty” will receive an automatic failure for that submission and/or such other penalty, up to and including expulsion from the course/program, as may be decided by the professor/dean. In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced, and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

Course outline amendments:

The Professor reserves the right to change the information contained in this course outline depending on the needs of the learner and the availability of resources.

Substitute course information is available in the Registrar's office.

VII. PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT:

Students who wish to apply for advanced credit in the course should consult the professor. Credit for prior learning will be given upon successful completion of a challenge exam or portfolio.

VIII. DIRECT CREDIT TRANSFERS:

Students who wish to apply for direct credit transfer (advanced standing) should obtain a direct credit transfer form from the Dean's secretary. Students will be required to provide a transcript and course outline related to the course in question.
