PHILOSOPHY/GOALS

This course helps students develop reading, writing, listening and speaking skills required for various apprenticeship and certificate programs. Periodicals and other sources are used to develop practical assignments while helping the students explore their future role within that field.

TEXTBOOK

GAGE Canadian Dictionary, GAGE Educational Publishing Company.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to do the following:

1. write a resume and covering letter
2. produce grammatically correct, coherently written short reports
3. present ideas orally with efficiency and coherence
4. create a set of technical instructions
5. present a brief oral technical report, using visual aids
6. produce assignments with the use of a computer
7. demonstrate listening skills needed in a work environment
8. read at a level which will enable the student to understand texts, periodicals and other written materials related to apprenticeship training.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

A variety of methods including classroom presentations, computer-assisted writing, group discussions and directed readings will be used to respond to the student's needs.

ASSIGNMENTS AND MARKING SCHEME

1. Assignments related to a review of communication skills	15%
2. Resume, covering letter and job interview practice	20%
3. Brief technical reports	20%
4. Written and oral presentation of technical instructions	10%
5. Business letter reports and requests	20%
6. Oral presentation of technical report	10%
7. Assignments demonstrating word processing skills	5%
Total	100%

Marking schemes for assignments will differ from professor to professor and from assignment to assignment. This flexibility recognizes that professors need to vary their approach as they assist students with varying levels of competence to meet the objectives of the course.

METHOD OF ASSESSMENT

At midterm one of the following grades will be assigned:

- S satisfactory performance to the time of midterm grade assignment (does not indicate successful completion of the course).
- U unsatisfactory performance to the time of midterm grade (does not indicate unsuccessful completion of the course).
- R minimal performance has resulted in the majority of course objectives to midterm not being met and course must be repeated.

The following letter grades will be assigned as final grades in courses in the Language and Communication Department:

A+	Consistently outstanding	(90% - 100%)
A	Outstanding Achievement	(80% - 89%)
B	Consistently above average achievement	(70% - 79%)
C	Satisfactory or acceptable achievement in all areas subject to assessment	(60% - 69%)
R	Repeat--The student has not achieved the objectives of the course and the course must be repeated.	(Less than 60%)

CR Credit exemption
X A temporary grade, limited to situations with extenuating circumstances, giving a student additional time to complete course requirements

TIME

Three periods per week for one entire semester.

PLAGIARISM

Students should refer to the definition of "academic dishonesty" in the "Statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities."

Students who engage in "academic dishonesty" will receive an automatic failure for that submission and/or such other penalty, up to and including expulsion from the course, as may be decided by the professor.

In order to protect students from inadvertent plagiarism, to protect the copyright of the material referenced and to credit the author of the material, it is the policy of the department to employ a documentation format for referencing source material.

SPECIAL NOTES

All students should be aware of the Special Needs Office in the college. Students with identified special needs are encouraged to discuss required accommodations confidentially with the professor. It is the responsibility of students who require accommodations to contact the Special Needs Office.
